

“MEETING WITH MANZO”

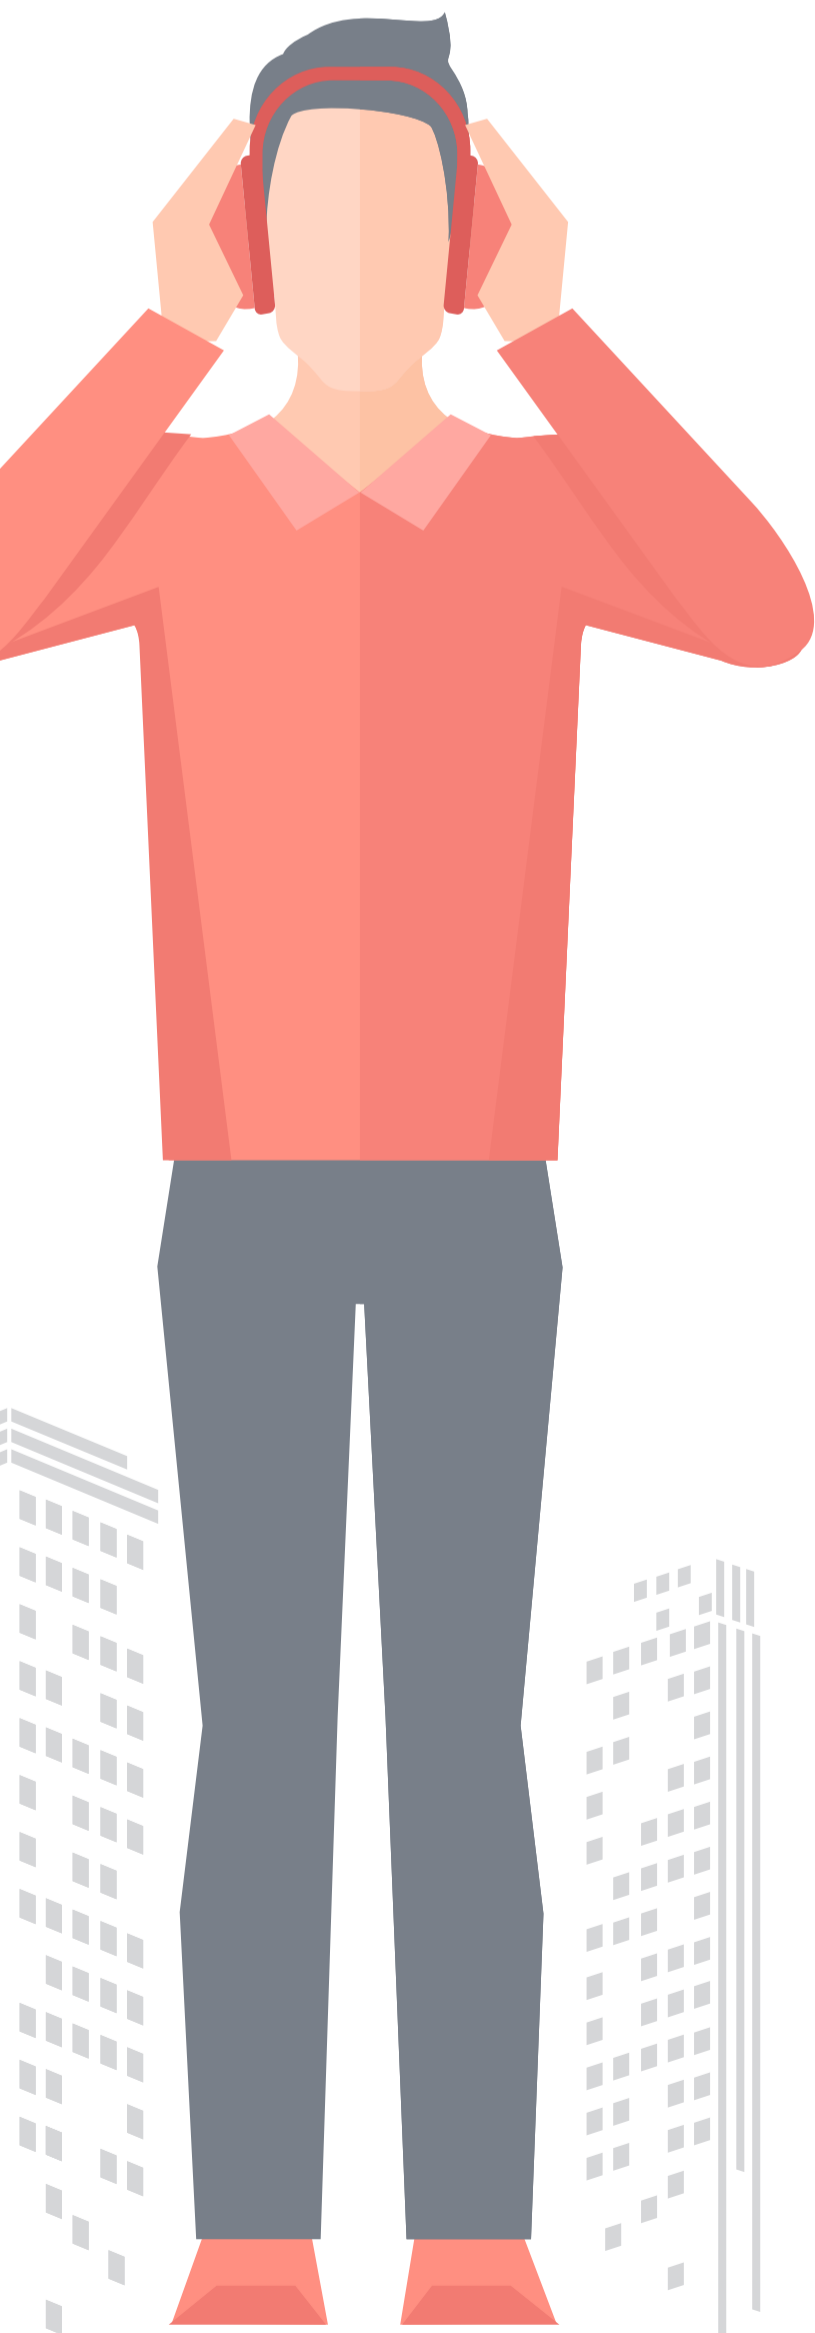

CHRIS MANZO

He's a reality star, entrepreneur, author, podcast host and restaurateur. He's been working since he was 12 in the hospitality industry and has held many roles, everything from bartending, valet and general management. When he was 19, Chris joined Bravo's "Housewives of NJ" which aired for 5 seasons. Bravo subsequently offered his family their own show- "Manzo'd With Children."

Most recently he's the co-host of a podcast called "Dear Albie" which has just launched and has already become one of the fastest growing and highest rated podcasts. As much as he loves doing the show, his true love is being around people and seeing the smiles that are on their faces when they are eating at 10th Street Pizza in Hoboken, where Chris can be found pretty much 24/7.

TODAY'S SUBJECTS

Who is Chris?

Bad networking habits

Using your strengths to help maintain your relationships

Chris' children's book "Oliver Brightside: You Don't Want That Penny"

Expanding your network and the importance of networking with people who aren't at your level

Ousting the influence of bad advice

What's next for Chris? listen in

