

“NETWORKS DON'T HAVE TO BE CONVENTIONAL”

TYLER WAGNER

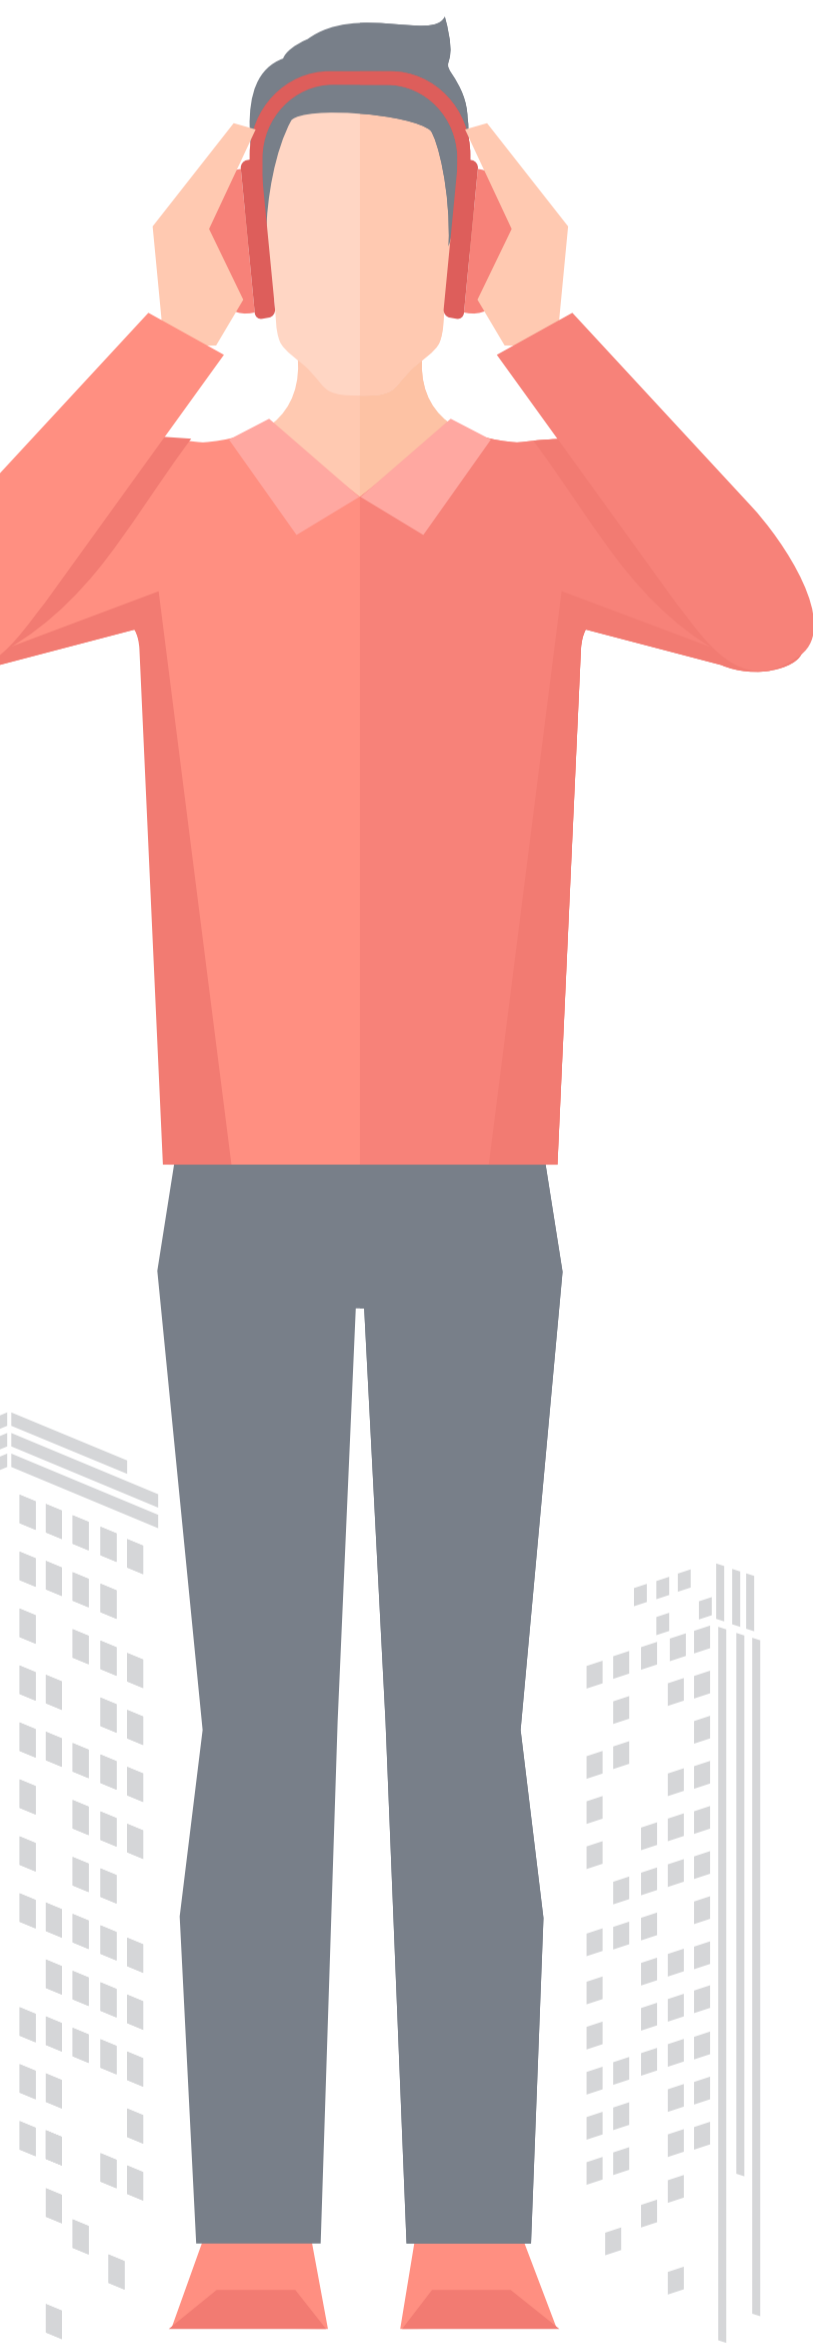

Tyler Wagner is the founder of Authors Unite where he helps people write and market their first profitable book. He has helped over 300 people create passive income, become leaders in their field, start businesses from their books, and much more. He is also the bestselling author of Conference Crushing, a book designed to help businesspeople and entrepreneurs maximize their ROI at networking events, conventions and conferences.

When Tyler was 21 he dropped out of college to intern under Jayson Gaignard (Founder of MastermindTalks). He got to see behind the scenes of how an amazing conference should be put together. He later realized that a lot of people were not maximizing their time at networking events. So, he decided to write Conference Crushing. The book has helped thousands of people maximize their ROI at events.

Tyler Wagner is also the founder of Wags Media where he helps people start and scale their businesses online. Wags Media helps people scale their businesses in numerous ways including: building websites and sales funnels, social media management, social media advertising, done-for-you podcasts, and gaining mainstream media coverage.

His passion is to help as many people become authors and successful business owners as possible. The feeling of holding his first book when it came in the mail changed his life and he wants everyone to experience that. The feeling of intertwining what you love with your work is nothing less than bliss. He wants everyone to experience this feeling every day as well.
